Reagan Busbee Joins NetVersant as South/Southeast Regional Vice President

HOUSTON, TEXAS, September 20, 2005 — NetVersant Solutions today announced that Reagan Busbee has joined the company as regional vice president for its south/southeast region. The announcement was made by Scott L. Fordham, president & CEO of NetVersant.

Busbee brings to NetVersant more than 20 years of proven management experience, encompassing leadership positions in both public and private companies. Reflecting his versatile career with industry leaders and entrepreneurial ventures, Busbee has been involved in operations, sales and marketing, finance and strategic planning.

In addition to founding and leading an entrepreneurial venture, Busbee was a founding management team member of Comfort Systems USA, a publicly traded commercial HVAC company, in an operations and mergers and acquisitions capacity. He was also associated with publicly traded Consolidated Graphics as vice president, where he was involved primarily in the successful turnaround of one of its commercial printing subsidiaries. Busbee's career began in public accounting, where he managed annual audits and public company accounting relationships for six years.

"Reagan's management style and business acumen position him as an ideal fit for our management team," commented Fordham. "In addition to an impressive background, he has a proven service capability that will benefit our south/southeast region." This expansive territory includes Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Washington, D.C. and Maryland.

Busbee graduated with honors with a bachelor of business administration in accounting.
